

Richter and Seqirus signed a license agreement for the commercialisation of cariprazine in Australia and New Zealand

Budapest, Hungary and Victoria, Australia – 24 May 2019 – Gedeon Richter Plc (“Richter”) and Seqirus Pty Ltd (“Seqirus”) today announced the signing of an exclusive license agreement to commercialize cariprazine in Australia and New Zealand.

Under the terms of the agreement, Richter will be responsible for product supply and Seqirus will be responsible for the registration and commercialisation of the product in Australia and New Zealand. Richter will receive an upfront payment as well as milestone payments from Seqirus.

“We are pleased with the partnership established, which provides an option to making available worldwide cariprazine for those who are suffering from mental illnesses”, said Mr Gábor Orbán, Chief Executive Officer of Richter.

“We are very excited to be working with Richter on the commercialisation of this innovative treatment for schizophrenia. This product is an important addition to Seqirus’ growing product range and strengthens our broad portfolio of in-licensed medicines in Australia and New Zealand,” said Dr Lorna Meldrum, Vice President of Commercial Operations, Seqirus Asia Pacific.

About Schizophrenia

Schizophrenia is a severe and highly disabling chronic mental illness involving disordered thought and perception. Its characteristic onset in late adolescence/early adulthood is often associated with a marked, lifelong impact on social and role functioning. The prevalence of schizophrenia is about 1% in the general population worldwide.¹
